WILLIAM E KELLY, SUPERINTENDENT
ANNA V JACOBS, ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1972:

As you approach your commencement and prepare to venture into life's mainstream, would you pause to anticipate your goals and evaluate your past.

In previous generations students were prepared to live in a society similar to that of their elders. But, today we realize that we do not know and cannot envisage the range of demands that the future will impose upon man.

All that we can predict with certainty is that the central issue will be a struggle to assert truly human values and to achieve their ascendancy in a mass technological society. It will be a struggle to place man in a healthy relationship with his natural environment, to place him in command of the wondrous technology he is creating, and to give him the breadth and depth of understanding to transcend the diverse cultures of the world.

We must ask, then, not what kind of an education did we provide, but what kind of a human being did we graduate.

We would want him to be a person with a strong sense of himself and his own humanness, with awareness of his thoughts and feelings, with the capacity to express love and joy and to recognize tragedy and feel grief. We would want him to cherish the vision of the man he is capable of becoming and to cherish the development of the same potentiality in others.

To achieve these characteristics in our graduates, our educational process must do more than simply impart facts and figures. We must nurture in every student qualities such as the capacity to change, the ability to accept frustration for future gains, the ability to find more satisfaction in giving than in receiving, the ability to relate to people in a consistent manner, the ability to direct one's hostile energy into constructive outlets, and the capacity to love, which is the only neutralizer of hate.

It is my sincere hope that you, the members of the Saugus High School Class of 1972, will reflect these qualities in your passage through life and will remember your high school days as a rewarding and successful experience.

Sincerely,

William E. Kelly

To the Class of 1972:

As it comes time for each graduating class to march on to Stackpole Field and then to pursue their individual endeavors, I often wonder how well prepared each of you is to face the challenge before you. I know that we have not always agreed on each and every aspect of school life, but then no one can please everyone. I hope that the efforts and diligence of the staff at the high school has in some small way taught you that interest in whatever you do helps to meet the challenge. Life itself is a challenge which each of us must face every day.

In order to meet the challenges of life we should set goals and as each goal is accomplished or attempted we should evaluate our progress in reference to these goals. Never aimlessly drift through the channels of accomplishment lest you be grounded on the shore of indifference. It is the person who sets goals and seeks to attain them who is successful.

I would like to leave you with this message, and that is, whatever you choose to pursue after graduation, make certain that you are familiar with the means and methods and requirements of attaining your goals.

I wish each and every one of you every success in life and I am certain you will bring only glory to Saugus High School.

Sincerely,

Robert J. Fraser

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people. With all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. Your High School diploma is all the experience you need. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

To the Class of '72

Life is its own reward;
Live it the way you feel.
But if the cards turn bad
Remember — you had the deal.

You can make it or not,
It's all up to you.
But the scene's not all bad
And there's plenty to do.

Take up the challenge
You've only just begun,
And make sure each tomorrow
Has a brighter sun.
